PROF. UEBERWEG'S HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY.

Now ready. Complete in 2 vols.

A History of Philosophy, from Thales to the Present Time. By Dr. FRIEDRICH UEBERWEG.

Translated by Prof. Geo. S. MORRIS, A.M. With Additions by the Translator; by NOAH PORTER,
D.D., LL.D., on English and American Philosophy; and by VINCENZO BOTTA, Ph.D., on Italian Philosophy.

Vol. I.—Ancient and Mediæval Philosophy.

Royal 8vo., cloth, 18/-

Vol. II.—Modern Philosophy.

Royal 8vo., cloth, 21/-

"A clear, condensed, comprehensive outline of the different systems which have been propounded from the earliest to the latest time. We know of no compendium so satisfactory in all respects. It may be recommended to students of Philosophy with all confidence as an admirable text-book."—Westminster Review.

"Ueberweg's 'History of Philosophy' is exactly what English-speaking students want."—Examiner.

"The work is concise and clear, exact and suggestive, comprehensive and critical. It contains a complete presentation of the different philosophical schools, and describes, with sufficient minuteness, the principal doctrines which belong to each system and to subordinate branches of each system; by which means a distinct picture is placed before the mind of the reader. It meets at once the wants of the ordinary student, and of the independent inquirer."—British Quarterly Review.

"The sketches of the various systems and the biographies of their authors, the very full and valuable lists of authorities, and the careful estimates of the bearings of the systems upon each other, all help to increase its value. For certain purposes—such, for instance, as preparing students for examinations—it is admirably adapted, better perhaps than any other work of the kind."—Spectator.

"The late Dean Mansel, whose authority to speak on such a matter was that of a master mind, we know placed the very highest value on this work, as the most perfect and impartial of its kind. It is clear and concise in its statements, systematic in its arrangement, accurate in detail, impartial in tone, never dull, and never tedious."—Standard.

"The book is one of sterling value and great interest."—British Quarterly Review.

"We can cordially recommend the book to all persons interested in Africa and the Africans."—Examiner.

"The details of his journeys will be read with thrilling interest."—Daily Review.

Byeways of Two Cities—London and Edinburgh. By the Author of "The Romance of the Streets." With a Prefatory Notice by the Right Hon. the Earl of Shaftesbury, K.G. With a Frontispiece. Small 8vo., cloth, 3/6

"The author of the following pages is one of those valuable men—abundant now, compared with the past—who, by devoting their talents and their energies to the investigation of human life—particularly in its lowest forms—contribute largely to enlighten the public mind on the perils that threaten society, and on the remedies that may yet be applied to them. I first had the pleasure of making his acquaintance at a costermongers' meeting in Golden Lane—of which fraternity I am myself a member—and I received from him then a book called 'The Romance of the Streets.' The present volume is a continuation of those narratives, lively, forcible, picturesque, and true; in which last expression lies a mighty claim on all for its purchase and perusal."—From the Earl of Shaftesbury's Preface.

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

The Romance of the Streets.

By a LONDON RAMBLER. New and Cheaper Edition.

Crown 8vo., cloth, 3/6

CONTENTS:—London Arabs; Jack Ketch's Warren; Sunday Night in the Taverns; Subjects of Misfortune; the Drunkards; London Thieves; Patient Enduring under Difficulties.

"There is a fascination in the contents of this volume which instantly rivets the attention and draws the reader on from page to page, and subject to subject, with such unflagging interest, as to make it no matter of surprise that a second edition has been called for."—Record.

One Thousand Gems from Henry Ward

BEECHER. Edited and compiled by the Rev. G. D.

EVANS. Third Thousand. Crown 8vo., 528 pages, 5/-

Mr. Spurgeon says:—"Who else among the living sons of men beside Mr. Beecher could furnish material for such a volume? He is, for versatility of genius and wealth of illustration, altogether peerless."

The Old Book Tested.

Popular Queries about the Bible. By the Rev. JOHN WHITE, Belfast.

Crown 8vo., cloth, 3/6

"Mr. White has chosen a subject which was right well worth doing, and has done it very well ; that is, to condense into an available form the great arguments against infidelity, and rejection of the Christian Scriptures."
—Nonconformist.

NOW PUBLISHING—IN FIVE VOLUMES,

A Popular Commentary on the New Testament.By D. D. WHEDON, D.D., LL.D., of the American Episcopal Church. Vol. I. Crown 8vo., cloth, 5/-

This work has obtained an extensive circulation in the United States. Three volumes have already appeared there, and two more will complete the work. The following criticisms will give an idea of its character:—

"There is a clearness and compactness of expression which often reminds us of Bengel's 'Gnomon.' The condensation and sharpness of statement sometimes brings out the thought on you with a kind of surprise. A single short sentence frequently opens up to us the very heart of a passage. The collation of texts is apposite and suggestive, while the illustrations by maps and plates are all that could be desired."—Evang. Lutheran Quarterly Review.

"It is written in a clear, terse, and forcible style. There is very little waste of words. The expositions are concise, to the point, evangelical, and edifying. It bids fair to be a very valuable work."—Princeton (Presbyterian) Review.

The Revolt of the Field: a Sketch of the Rise and Progress of the Movement among the Agricultural Labourers. With Correspondence to the Daily News during a Tour through Canada with Mr. Arch. By ARTHUR CLAYDEN. Small 8vo., cloth, 3/6

The Hero of Elstow; or the Story of the

Pilgrimage of John Bunyan. By JAMES COPNER, M.A., Vicar of Elstow. With a Frontispiece. Fcap. 8vo., cloth, 3/6

Wayside Wells; or, Thoughts from Deepdale.

By ALEXANDER LAMONT. Crown 8vo., cloth, 5/-

A Treatise on the Nature of Man, regarded as Triune; with an Outline of a Philosophy of Life. By THOMAS BEST WOODWARD. 8vo. cloth, 7/6

The Structure of the Old Testament.

A Series of Popular Essays. By the Rev. STANLEY LEATHES, M.A., Professor of Hebrew at King's College, London. Crown 8vo., cloth, 4/-

"The student will find many invaluable hints on matters that may have before presented themselves as difficult, and we recommend it to all those whose studies are devoted to Hebrew literature in the assurance that it will prove both interesting and acceptable."—Jewish World.

The History of Christian Theology in the Apostolic Age. By EDWARD REUSS, Professor in the Theological Faculty, and in the Protestant Seminary of Strasburg. With Preface and Notes by R. W. DALE, M.A., 2 vols. 8vo., cloth, each, 12/-

"Another valuable contribution to our theological literature. M. Reuss is earnest and reverent, thoughtful and instructive, and we can hardly imagine any one reading the book without feeling that he has learned much from it."—Literary Churchman.

"The second volume contains three more books, and treats of the Pauline theology, the Transitional theology, and the Johannine theology, and is the most original and masterly part of the work. This comprehensive plan is filled up in a most masterly way."—British Quarterly Review.

The Philosophy of Natural Theology.

An Essay in Confutation of the Scepticism of the Present Day. By the Rev. WILLIAM JACKSON, M.A., F.S.A., formerly of Worcester College, Author of "Positivism," "Right and Wrong," &c., &c. 8vo., cloth, 12/-

Mr. Jackson's Essay gained a Prize at Oxford in November, 1872, and embraces the following subjects:—I. Philosophy of Design—II. Conditions of Knowledge—III. Beliefs of Reason—IV. Production and its Law—V. Causation—VI. Responsibility.

An Outline Study of Man: or, the Body and Mind in One System. With Illustrative Diagrams, &c. By MARK HOPKINS, D.D., LL.D., Author of "Lectures on Moral Science," &c.

Crown 8vo., cloth, 7/6

"An interesting series of American psychological lectures, originally delivered at the Lowell Institute. The subject is pursued with originality both in language and the use of diagrams."—Examiner.

The Philosophy of the Cross.

By Rev. R. M'CHEYNE EDGAR, M.A. Crown 8vo., 6/6

"The task which the author has set himself, he has accomplished with no ordinary ability. It is not often that a volume of sermons issues from the press of such freshness, sweetness, and moral force."—Christian Age.

Alone with Jesus: Gleanings for Closet

Reading. By J. C. LANPHIER, Founder and Superintendent of the Fulton Street Prayer Meeting, New York. With Frontispiece. Fcap. 8vo., cloth, 2/6

WORKS BY THOMAS COOPER,

Author of "The Purgatory of Suicides."

Old Fashioned Stories. Crown 8vo., cloth, 7/6.

SECOND EDITION.

God, the Soul, and a Future State :—A two-fold popular treatise. Fcap. 8vo., cloth, 2/6.

"There is no living writer that reminds us more forcibly of Paley than the author of these pages,—so plain and simple as he is in his style, so pertinent and close in his reasoning, and so full of apt illustration are his arguments."—Standard.

"It is a model of vigorous thinking and effective eloquence."—Christian Age.

TENTH THOUSAND.

The Bridge of History over the Gulf of Time.

A Popular View of the Historical Evidence for the Truth of Christianity. Fcap. 8vo., cloth, 2/6.

"The present volume is in his best manner, and deserves to be scattered as men fling seed into the furrows, by handfuls. With God's blessing it will reclaim the sceptical and confirm the wavering."—Rev. C. H. Spurgeon.

"What has struck us most in the reading of the book is the fertility of the writer's intellect, which never seems to be overweighted with what lies beyond its immediate need, and yet never for an instant lacks a fact or an illustration. The moral and religious feeling of the whole is admirable—hopeful, buoyant, inspiring."—Nonconformist.

FIFTH EDITION (WITH PORTRAIT).

The Life of Thomas Cooper. Written by Himself. Crown 8vo., cloth, 3/6.

"It is refreshing to turn from that strangest of all tongues, the language of the so-called sensational novel, to Mr. Cooper's idiomatic English. We know scores of popular writers whose style would be greatly improved if every morning before they began to write they were forced to learn off by heart a page even of the 'Life of Thomas Cooper.'"—Saturday Review.

"The work is almost a perfect illustration of a strange chapter of English History."—Daily News.

"A most interesting volume."—Leisure Hour.

The Paradise of Martyrs : a Faith Rhyme. Crown 8vo., cloth, 6/-

"A remarkable contribution to the poetry of the period."—Illustrated London News.

SECOND THOUSAND.

Plain Pulpit Talk. Crown 8vo., cloth, 5/.

"These sermons are colloquial, yet full of matter ; soundly evangelical, yet most strikingly illustrated ; and he is not afraid to venture on familiar phrases. The whole volume is singularly direct and rousing."—Sunday Magazine.

WORKS BY FRANCIS JACOX, B.A., Cantab.

At Nightfall and Midnight: Musings after Dark. Crown 8vo., cloth, 8/6

"Mr. Jacox is a consummate artist, a mosaic worker, whose skill never fails; out of his rich materials he creates genuine books absorbing in their interest."—British Quarterly Review.

"Those who are fond of choice extracts and curious anecdotes, will find an almost boundless treasury in a book called 'At Nightfall and Midnight.' They are woven together by the artist's skill into one continuous web, so that the effect produced is very much that of listening to a conversation, or rather, to a monologue, of a richly stored mind pouring out its wealth in a strong-flowing and spontaneous stream."—Guardian.

Aspects of Authorship; or, Bookmarks and Bookmakers. Crown 8vo., cloth, 8/6

"No illustration of authors and authorship is omitted. We see them in dress and undress; at work and at play; in slippers at home, or in full suit at court."—Notes and Queries.

Cues from All Quarters; or, Literary Musings of a Clerical Recluse. Crown 8vo., cloth, 7/6

"A volume of exceedingly clever and original essays."—Graphic.

"We have nothing but praise to give to the very delightful volume before us."—Spectator.

Bible Music.

Being Variations in Many Keys on Musical
Themes from Scripture. Crown 8vo., 6/-

Secular Annotations on Scripture Texts.

First and Second Series. Crown 8vo., cloth, each, 6/-

"Choice fragments of poetry, philosophy, and history, the analogies of life and thought, with the high themes suggested by the sacred text, are heaped in almost prodigal affluence of illustration upon the foundation of each text."—British Quarterly Review.

Traits of Character, and Notes of Incident, in Bible Story. Crown 8vo., cloth, 8/6

"We trust that many of our readers have studied and duly appreciated Mr. Jacox's 'Secular Annotations,' and will therefore be sufficiently informed of the character of this volume when they are told that it may be described as, in effect, another enlarged series. The book is delightful to read. . . . Mr. Jacox is well read in classical, and remarkably well read in modern literature."—Spectator.

SECOND EDITION.

An Expositor's Note Book; or, Brief Essays on Obscure or Misread Scriptures. By SAMUEL Cox, Author of "The Resurrection," "The Private Letters of St. Paul and St. John," &c. Crown 8vo., 8/6

"A book which will be very useful and very acceptable to a large number of persons, and will help them to discover a beauty and a meaning in many passages of Scripture which have hitherto had no voice for them, nor attractive power. The essays are all of them written in a popular style; but even men of culture and scholarship, to whom these obscure or misread Scriptures are familiar, will read it with pleasure, and not without profit. A very healthy tone pervades the book, and it is written in a pleasant genial style.—Literary Churchman.

Rain upon the Mown Grass, and other Ser- mons. By the Rev. SAMUEL MARTIN, of West- minster. Second Edition. Crown 8vo., cloth, 7/6

"The power of the volume lies in the grand and solemn truths which it enforces, and its charm consists in its repose, reality, and persuasiveness. Did our limits admit we could adduce passages of singular force and exquisite beauty. The volume is characterised by soundness of doctrine, clearness of thought, and a style at once chastened and forcible."—Evangelical Magazine.

The Handbook of Bible Geography.

By the Rev. GEORGE H. WHITNEY, A.M. Containing a Descriptive and Historical Account of every Place, Nation, and Tribe mentioned in the Bible and Apocrypha, Alphabetically Arranged, and Illustrated by nearly One Hundred Engravings, and Forty Maps and Plans. Crown 8vo., cloth, 7/6

"All that is known in regard to each place is mentioned briefly and succinctly, but accurately. The full-paged maps, of which there are twenty-two, are excellent. The engravings also are exceedingly good."—Christian Work.

A Scripture Manual.

Designed to Facilitate the Finding of Proof Texts.
Alphabetically and Systematically arranged. By CHARLES SIMMONS. Crown 8vo., cloth, 750 pp. 6/-

"A very valuable work for Bible students."—Rock.

The New Testament View of the Old.

A Contribution to Biblical Introduction and Exegesis.
By DAVID M'CALMAN TURPIE, M.A., Author of "The Old Testament in the New." In 8vo., cloth, 10/6

"A devout, learned, and useful endeavour to throw light on a most interesting and important question."—Evangelical Magazine.

THIRD EDITION, WITH TWENTY ILLUSTRATIONS.

The Story of the Earth and Man.

By J. W. DAWSON, LL.D., F.R.S., F.G.S., Principal and Vice-Chancellor of McGill University, Montreal, Author of "Archaia," "Acadian Geology," &c.

Crown 8vo., cloth, 7/6

"A very able and interesting sketch of geological science."—Spectator.

"This most valuable volume. We commend the book to all who wish to obtain information on scientific subjects, presented in a reverential spirit, and with singular harmony and intelligence."—Christian Observer.

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

Archaia; or, Studies of the Cosmogony and Natural History of the Hebrew Scriptures. Cr. 8vo., 6/-

The Higher Ministry of Nature Viewed in the Light of Modern Science. By JOHN R. LEIFCHILD, A.M., Author of "Our Coal Fields and our Coal Pits," &c.

Crown 8vo., cloth, 9/-

"A rich contribution to the mental necessities of our time. It is the work of a mind comprehensive in its grasp, deep in its sympathy with nature, and strong in its love of truth. His right to be heard by theologians is manifest in the conservative yet purely philosophical spirit in which theology is treated."—London Quarterly Review.

Science and Humanity; or, a Plea for the Superiority of Spirit over Matter. By NOAH PORTER, D.D., LL.D., Yale College. Crown 8vo., cloth, 2/6

"This brief, admirable, and thoughtful essay reveals at every turn the extensive acquaintance of the author with every phase of philosophic inquiry."—British Quarterly Review.

Bible Truths with Shakespearian Parallels. By J. B. SELKIRK. 2nd Edition. Crown 8vo., cloth, 5/-

"This is a very remarkable work, tracing, as it does, in so many minute details, the influence that Scripture had on the mind and imagination of the world's greatest poet."—Standard.

Scripture and Nature: the Analogy between Horticulture & the Divine Human Culture. Cr. 8vo., 6/-

"I like the book very much; the thought and reasoning are all that could be wished. I look upon it as a very valuable monograph of the correspondences between the natural and the spiritual, throwing clear and beautiful light especially upon the analogies between the natural process of grafting and the conversion and regeneration of the human soul."—Rev. Hugh Macmillan, LL.D.

WORKS BY THE LATE DEAN ALFORD.

I. Sons of God: the Known and the Unknown.

Advent Sermons preached in Canterbury Cathedral.

By HENRY ALFORD, D.D., Dean of Canterbury.

Second Thousand. Fcap. 8vo., cloth, 3/6

"These eight Sermons, on the nature of human sonship to God, the means whereby it is brought about, and the consequences that follow upon it, are, we suppose, the final memorial of the late Dean. They are, on their own account, most interesting; bold and unfaltering in their teaching of Christian truth, and singularly fruitful and suggestive in developing the broken hints as to the nature of the future life, which alone are to be found in Holy Scripture."—Literary Churchman.

NEW EDITION—15th THOUSAND.

II. The State of the Blessed Dead. 16mo., cloth, 1/6

"Characterised by clearness and vigour of thought, the Dean has carefully traced from Scripture his account of the intermediate state; and he gives also a view of the condition after the resurrection which is comprehensive and satisfying."—Christian Work.

NEW EDITION—6th THOUSAND.

III. The Coming of the Bridegroom.

16mo., cloth, 1/6

"Four admirable discourses upon the parable of the Five Virgins, characterised by deep religious fervour and scholarship of a high order."—Rock.

IV. Advent Sermons.

Containing Four on the "State of the Blessed Dead," and Four on the "Coming of the Bridegroom."

Square 16mo., cloth, 2/6

Human Power in the Divine Life; or, the Active Powers of the Mind in relation to Religion.

By the Rev. NICHOLAS BISHOP, M.A. Crown 8vo., 6/-

The range of thought is very wide, and the mode of treatment very stimulating and fresh."—British Quarterly Review.

Faith and Doubt; or, the Bible and the

Creeds. By the Rev. CHARLES HEBERT, M.A., of Lowestoft.

Fcap. 8vo., cloth, 3/6

Ned Wright; The Story of his Life.

With Portrait. Eighth Thousand. Fcap. 8vo., cloth, 1/6

"The record of a most remarkable career."—Nonconformist.

"Ned's success as a Bible agent, a missionary to thieves, and a preacher of the Gospel, has been marvellous in the extreme. The work is one of the most attractive interest."—Standard.

JOHN WESLEY AND HIS COMPANIONS.

SECOND EDITION, WITH THREE PORTRAITS.

The Life and Times of the Rev. John

Wesley, M.A., founder of the Methodists. By the Rev. LUKE TYERMAN. In 3 vols. 8vo. cloth, each 12/-

"It deserves the praise, not only of being the fullest biography of Wesley, but also of being eminently painstaking, veracious, and trustworthy."—Edinburgh Review.

"Mr. Tyerman's volumes constitute by far the most exhaustive, as they are certainly the bulkiest, and from many points of view the most interesting of the lives of Wesley. For the first time our libraries receive a full and comprehensive memoir of the great religious teacher and ecclesiastical statesman."—British Quarterly Review.

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

The Oxford Methodists :

Memoirs of Clayton, Ingham, Gambold, Hervey, and Broughton, with Biographical Notices of others.With portraits. 8vo., cloth, 10/6

"In his history of this devoted group of men, Mr. Tyerman has chosen a subject which is worthy of the historian. He has well brought together such information as he has been able to collect concerning the men who were more or less in connection with the Wesleys at the beginning of the eighteenth century. We have a memoir of Clayton, the Jacobite clergyman ; Ingham, the Yorkshire evangelist ; Gambold, the Moravian bishop ; a good notice of James Hervey, the literary parish priest ; and Broughton, the faithful Secretary to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge. There is also a notice of that remarkable woman, Martha Wesley Hall, which sets her character in a bright light. The book presents a fair and succinct account of these Oxford Methodists."—Westminster Review.

Anecdotes of the Wesleys :

Illustrative of their Character and Personal History,
By the Rev. J. B. WAKELEY. Third Edition.Crown 8vo., cloth, 3/6

"The Wesleys were nearly all distinguished, during two or three generations at least, for wit, intelligence, and accomplishments. The present collection of anecdotes respecting them is the largest ever made, and occupied the author for more than twelve years.

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

Anecdotes of Rev. George Whitefield, M.A.

With a Biographical Sketch. Second edition.

Crown 8vo., cloth, 3/6

"A goodly volume of 400 pages, in which the American author has gathered all that is known of this distinguished Evangelist, recasting what was old and well-known, and much that is new gathered from sources hitherto but little known."—Weekly Review.

WORKS BY E. DE PRESSENSE, D.D.

FOURTH EDITION.

Jesus Christ: His Times, Life, and Work.

Crown 8vo., cloth, 9/-

"One of the most valuable additions to Christian literature which the present generation has seen."—Contemporary Review.

"On the whole, a most noble contribution to the cause of truth, for which the deep gratitude of all sincere Christians cannot but be due to its accomplished author."—Canon Liddon's Bampton Lecture.

Jesus Christ: His Life and Work.

Abridged by the Author from the larger Work, and adapted for general readers. Crown 8vo., cloth, 5/-

Dr. Pressense's History of Early Christianity.

"The first volume brilliantly and exhaustively deals with the apostolic period, and is entitled 'The Early Years of Christianity.' In the second volume we have 'The Martyrs and Apologists,' which treats of the conflict of Primitive Christianity with Paganism; and we have an account of the missions, the persecutions, the representative Christians of the age, and the controversies carried on with opponents. The third volume gives a history of 'Heresy and Christian Doctrine,' or the controversies within the Christian Church. Each section is complete in itself, and the student becomes fascinated by the story that is here told. We know of no history that can be called its rival. We say unreservedly, that the person who possesses this magnificent history has almost all that he needs for obtaining a complete and life-like acquaintance with the first three centuries of the Christian era. In reading it we are not conscious that it is a translation, for the English is every way admirable."—Christian World.

1. The Early Years of Christianity.

8vo., cloth, 12/-

2. The Martyrs and Apologists.

8vo., cloth, 14/-

"A most valuable and important addition to our Church histories."—Sunday Magazine.

"A most fascinating and trustworthy history of the struggles of the early Church, narrated in a style of lofty and impassioned eloquence."—Churchman.

3. Heresy and Christian Doctrine.

8vo., cloth, 12/-

"This is the third volume of a series in which Dr. Pressense has undertaken to describe the history of the Church during the first three centuries of the Christian era. His style is good, often eloquent, always perspicuous. It brings out the varying phases of belief which prevailed in the earliest centuries without indulging in harsh condemnation. The translation is good and reads well."—Athenæum.

WORKS BY REV. T. BINNEY, LL.D.

I. The Practical Power of Faith; an Exposition of part of the Eleventh Chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews. Fourth Edition. Crown 8vo., cloth, 5/-

"It has become well known wherever our language is spoken.
The book will not grow old. It is young, fresh, and vigorous now. Few books will help the reader to clearer thought on this high theme."— British Quarterly Review.

II. Micah, the Priest Maker.

A Hand-Book on Ritualism. Second Edition.

Crown 8vo., cloth, 5/-

"It is surprising to see an outsider so thoroughly understanding the doctrines of different parties without his own community, or stating the whole case so temperately."—Fall Mall Gazette.

III. Money.

A Popular Exposition in Rough Notes. With Remarks on Stewardship and Systematic Beneficence.
Third Edition. Crown 8vo., cloth, 5/-

"We have no Essays upon the subject so searching, convincing, practical and telling."—Christian Work.

"A forcible and elaborate exposition."—Guardian.

The Preachers' Lantern.

For the use of Ministers, Students, and Teachers.

In 3 vols., 768 pages.

Handsomely bound, each 7/6

"The Preachers' Lantern' is a miscellany of really valuable things. It sketches preachers who may claim to be pulpit models. It furnishes sermons by able preachers and essays on theological and philosophical subjects. Critical expositions of difficult passages are given. Anecdotes, quotations, and terse sayings are collected; all arranged and pervaded by the animated spirit and multifarious knowledge of a very able editor.—
British Quarterly Review.

"The work contains a series of practical hints of real service to the preacher. We cannot too highly commend these volumes, especially to young clergymen."—Standard.

Born Again ; or, the Soul's Renewal.

By AUSTIN PHELPS, D.D., Author of "The Still Hour." Fcap. 8vo., cloth, 3/6

"It presents the aspects of this great theological and practical doctrine in the most convincing and attractive form."—Christian World.

"Remarkably clear, earnest, interesting, and fitted to be useful."—British Messenger.

The Stewardship of Life ; or, Studies on the Parable of the Talents. By Rev. JAMES STIRLING. Crown 8vo. cloth, 6/6

"Fresh, striking, and suggestive. The whole volume has both beauty and power."—Freeman.

Bible Truth and Broad Church Error.

By WILLIAM RITCHIE, D.D. Crown 8vo., cloth, 7/6

"The subjects discussed embrace the leading topics on which the Rationalistic school is at issue with orthodox and Evangelical teaching ; such, for example, as Inspiration, the Incarnation of God in Christ, the Atonement, the Fatherhood of God, Justification by Faith, the Eternity of Future Punishment, Theories of Annihilation and Universal Restoration, and Religious Doctrine or Dogma and Life. This volume is a timely and useful contribution to the literature of the subject on which it treats."—Record.

COMPLETION OF DR. STOUGHTON'S
ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY OF ENGLAND.

The Church of the Revolution.

The Church of the Restoration.

2 vols., 8vo., 25/-

The Church of the Civil Wars and the Commonwealth. 2 vols. 8vo., cloth, 28/-

"An author who has brought to the execution of his work, not only unusual capacity and knowledge, but also a spirit of strict impartiality."—Illustrated London News.

"Without exception, Dr. Stoughton's is the most candid and equitable history of the ecclesiastical controversies involved in the period he reviews which has ever been written ; it must also, we think, be admitted to be the most accurate, penetrating, and comprehensive."—London Quarterly Review.

"A markedly fair, charitable, large-minded, and honestly-written history."—Guardian.

WORKS BY J. BALDWIN BROWN, B.A.

I. The Sunday Afternoon. Fifty-two Brief Sermons. Second Thousand. Crown 8vo, cloth, 7/6

"We know of no sermon literature more worthy to take rank with the four volumes of the late F. W. Robertson, than the published discourses of the Rev. J. Baldwin Brown. There is about them an intellectual freshness and moral vigour that render them instructive and stimulating in no ordinary degree."—The Study.

II. First Principles of Ecclesiastical Truth.

Essays on the Church and Society. 8vo., cloth, 10/6

"These essays are full of power of a very broad and refined kind. The value of the book is in the beauty and power and catholicity of the spirit with which Mr. Baldwin Brown surveys the origin of ecclesiastical institutions, and traces the causes of their degradation and renovation. . . . This able, thoughtful, and most sincere book."—Spectator.

III. Misread Passages of Scripture.

Across the Ferry: First Impressions of America and Its People. By JAMES MACAULAY, M.A., M.D., Edin., Editor of the "Leisure Hour." Second Edition. Crown 8vo., cloth 7/6

"Extremely full of information. It only modestly professes to give 'First Impressions,' but in his case they are both vivid and valuable, and written with a deep insight into whatever is best worth knowing in the United States."—People's Magazine.

The Noaic Deluge: Its Probable Physical Effects and Present Evidences. By Rev. S. LUCAS, F.G.S. Crown 8vo., cloth, 2/6

"A thoughtful, devout, and valuable treatise. The writer's aim is to harmonise the physical facts brought to light by science with the records of divine revelation—a noble purpose and admirably carried out."—Watchman.

The Credibility of the Christian Religion; or, Thoughts on Modern Rationalism. By SAMUEL SMITH. Cheap Edition. Fcap. 8vo., cloth 1/6

"Though popular in its style, it grapples none the less ably and intelligently with many of the difficulties which are presented on every side at the present day. The writer has a great grasp of every subject he handles, and is also most extensively read. His vindication of the Bible, of miracles, and leading doctrines is one of the ablest we have read."—Christian Work.
